the Iowa Dept. of Education on providing continuous learning (learning opportunities and educational services to students outside of the school buildings). There are two options for districts: 1) Voluntary educational enrichment opportunities and 2) Required educational services. Factors to consider in making that decision are technology access, staff skills and student access. The voluntary educational enrichment opportunities option should have activities offered as equitably as possible and no grade or credit will be given. The required educational services option requires participation with attendance taken, work graded and credit granted. Districts will decide which path to follow and complete an application (available Apr. 1). Each district is to decide whether seniors have met the requirements to graduate. DMACC courses are being completed online. The College Board has modified and shortened AP tests due to school closures. More guidance will be available in the next few days and shared at the April 6 special board meeting. Administrators will be meeting to discuss the options and also discuss how to transition back to attending school when that should happen.

- E. Strategy Session moved to April 6, 2020 – The strategy session will include options for paraprofessionals.
